c. Provide an explanation on how the district intends to fund the salary and benefit increases, and also identify the revenue source/object code.

VI. Did the district have significant events for the quarter (include incurrence of long-term debt, settlement of audit findings or legal suits, significant differences in budgeted revenues or expenditures, borrowing of funds (TRANS), issuance of COPs, etc.)? NO

If yes, list events and their financial ramifications. (Enter explanation below, include additional pages if needed.)

VII. Does the district have significant fiscal problems that must be addressed? This year? YES
Next year? YES

If yes, what are the problems and what actions will be taken? (Enter explanation below, include additional pages if needed.)

The District closed the 2009-2010 fiscal year with a <$1,567,597> operating deficit; excluding one-time items. This deficit is projected to grow into a <$5,998,320> operating deficit in 2010-2011 placing significant strain on the District's reserves. Other issues that must be addressed include:

- 1) Due to the continued effect of the reductions to both unrestricted and categorical funding in 2009-2010, the District expects to significantly drawdown on its reserves in the 2010-2011 fiscal year.
- 2) The extensive cash deferral mechanism in the State Principal Apportionment dispersal process could cause the District cash flow issues in the 2010-2011 fiscal year that may require borrowing and additional borrowing related expenditures.
- 3) The reduction in categorical funding has placed significant strain on the General Unrestricted Fund. The program reductions in DSPS, Scheduled Maintenance and Instructional Block grant poses significant issues as mandates and operational need prevents the District from reducing expenditures in these areas to match the reduced funding from the State resulting in a shift of resources from the Unrestricted General Fund to fund these programs and related expenditures.
- 4) If the State Budget does not include an inflationary adjustment that is based on restoring the workload reduction, rather than the growth calculation traditionally used, the District will have to draw on reserves more than projected.

RECOMMENDATION NO. 4

SUBJECT: RESOLUTION IN SUPPORT OF MEASURES Y AND YY

SUBMITTED BY: David Finkel, Chair

REQUESTED ACTION: It is recommended that the Board of Trustees approve the following resolution in support of the City of Santa Monica’s Measures Y and YY at the November 2, 2010 General Election

SUMMARY: Measure Y proposes a half cent transaction and use tax within the City of Santa Monica, and Measure YY is an advisory question concerning revenue allocation of the proceeds of the tax. If successful, Measure Y would generate approximately $12 million annually; Measure YY advises the City Council that half of the Measure Y revenue should be used to support school, educational, and afterschool programs, and half should be used for general City services such as police, fire, paramedic and emergency 911 response, public transit, services for the disabled, gang and drug prevention programs, environmental, library and other general fund services.

BACKGROUND: The persistent operating deficits of the State of California, including an approximately $20 billion deficit in its 2010-11 fiscal year, have led to reduced funding to the City of Santa Monica and to counties and school and community college districts in order to fund its deficits, with no end in sight.

The City of Santa Monica needs dependable and local sources of revenue that are not subject to being taken by the State to fund and to support essential, necessary and appropriate general city services such as police, fire, paramedic and emergency 911 response, school, educational and afterschool programs, public transit, services for the disabled, gang and drug prevention programs, environmental, library and other general fund services.

Many residents live in the City of Santa Monica because it offers a higher level of service, programs and quality of life than other neighboring cities and creating and preserving local revenue sources will ensure that the City can maintain and improve the high quality of programs and services that residents desire and expect.

Over the past six years, Sacramento has slashed funding to the City of Santa Monica by over $40 million, impacting a number of vital services. Our Police Department has been impacted, and other essential programs, such as Meals on Wheels, have experienced budget reductions. After 20% cuts from Sacramento, our local schools have been forced to eliminate more than 62 teaching and staff positions, increase class size, and slash music and core academic programs. While the Save Our Schools campaign and one-time federal funds have helped our schools this year, this is only a one-time solution.

Measure Y provides a mechanism to protect all of our services for the long term. Measure Y generates new revenue that Sacramento cannot touch; it gives our community local control over money that is generated locally. Without Measure Y, vital services, such as 911 services, paramedics and police, school and community college funding face serious cuts.

Measure Y requires a 50% plus one vote for passage.

SUBJECT: SMC PERFORMING ARTS CENTER

SUBMITTED BY: Superintendent/President

SUMMARY: Santa Monica College’s Performing Arts Center and the Broad Stage continue to shine as Westside audiences gain awareness of the new facilities. There were nearly 200 performances and usages this past year, including SMC events, public presentations, and rentals. Revenues, up 34%, covered all operating expenses for the year.

In 2009-10, Santa Monica College offered about 50 performances at the Broad Stage and the Edye Second Space, sponsored by the Art, Dance, Emeritus, Music, and President’s Office departments. This was in addition to the more than 45 academic rehearsal days in the Broad. The Music Department increased its use of the Broad Stage by 29% over last year. Of note is the move of the Music Department’s Opera Theatre from the smaller Edye room to the Broad Stage to accommodate a full-scale production with orchestra. Dance maintained a program similar to last year.

Madison Project, SMC’s presenting arts foundation, offered 14 free or low cost arts education outreach events and 73 public presentations, including extended runs of theater (Love’s Labour’s Lost, Jane Austen, Basil Twist’s Petrushka, and Daddy Long Legs); such outstanding artists as Juan Diego Flórez, Savion Glover, and Lee Ritenour; and opera conducted by Plácido Domingo! Ticket sales increased to 23,160, nearly three times that of the first year.

Santa Monica College also attracted 59 rental uses to the site, including photo shoots, TV pilots, cable shows, benefit concerts, public concerts, KCRW programs, corporate, dance, foundation, and community groups. Rental income increased 32% for the year.

This year, we look forward to continued improvements to the calendaring process and web resources. Planning is underway on a marquee on the site along with east wing improvements as part of the Measure AA bond program. Tickets sales for Madison Project’s third season are brisk, with the first concert of the season starting this weekend.

MAJOR ITEMS OF BUSINESS

INFORMATION ITEM I

SUBJECT: GLOBAL CITIZENSHIP INITIATIVE

SUBMITTED BY: Superintendent/President

SUMMARY: The Global Citizenship initiative continues to grow and thrive at SMC. 2009-2010 marked the first year in which the college adopted an annual Global Citizenship theme: Water. This proved to be an effective tool for integrating the ideas and philosophy of global citizenship across the curriculum and the activities of the college. The Global Citizenship Council continued to develop the initiative through the work of four subcommittees who addressed Study Abroad, integration across the curriculum, promoting student involvement, and professional development for faculty and staff.

Milestones for the year included the approval of a Global Studies degree program and related courses, the success of the annual theme, and three successful Study Abroad programs. During the Fall 2010 semester, the college will introduce the new annual theme, Food, and is planning for International Week in November which will prominently feature Global Citizenship at SMC.

The full report is included as Appendix D.

14-B AGREEMENT FOR FACILITIES PROGRAMMING STUDY

Agreement with GENSLER not to exceed $30,000 plus reimbursable expenses for a facilities programming study for the facilities housing the Health/PE/Fitness and Dance Building, Corsair Stadium, and Custodial Operations offices.

Funding Source: Measure AA

Comments: Following the approval of the Facilities Master Plan at the last Board of Trustees meeting, discussions were held on how to best move forward with the planning of the facilities housing the Health/PE/Fitness and Dance Building, Corsair Stadium, and Custodial Operations offices. Gensler is best suited for the task since they have already had in-depth information gathering sessions with the potential users. The study will better define the scope of the projects including athletics, facilities maintenance, and receiving uses.

14-C RESOLUTION TO PARTICIPATE IN THE OWNER CONTROLLED INSURANCE PROGRAM ESTABLISHED BY THE ALLIANCE FOR SCHOOLS COOPERATIVE INSURANCE PROGRAMS – STUDENT SERVICES PROJECT

Santa Monica Community College District (the “District”) shall be a participant in an Owner Controlled Insurance Program (the “OCIP”) that has been established by the Alliance of Schools for Cooperative Insurance Programs (“ASCIP”). In accordance with the provisions of Government Code §4420.5, Labor Code §§6300, et seq. and Title 8 of the California Code of Regulations, the District has elected to include the Student Services Project in the OCIP

Comment: Owner Controlled Insurance Programs (OCIP) are widely used by community college and school districts in an effort to better control project insurance costs, coverage and safety of major construction projects. Previously, the District has had the general contractor provide some of this coverage. However, most general contractors are not able to obtain as favorable of a rate as a large consortium and they also add a mark-up to all their costs. District staff currently must track contractor insurance to make sure that coverage does not lapse. The OCIP provides better rates and more complete coverage and on-site safety programs.

Total Other Restricted	$271,910,939

TOTAL PROPOSED ADOPTED BUDGET $457,794,821

It is important to note that the State has not passed an Adopted Budget. As such the District has based its projections on the Governor's proposed budget adjusted by the District's internal projections. While the District feels reasonably comfortable with its projections, there may need to be significant revisions when the State releases more accurate budgetary information.*

GENERAL FUND

General Fund Unrestricted (01.0)

These are the only funds available for the general operations of the District. All other funds are restricted in use.

Summary

The District closed the 2009-2010 fiscal year with a <$1,567,597> operating deficit, based on a comparison of ongoing revenues and expenditures. During the year, the District realized numerous one-time revenue items totaling $1,507,112 from sources including ARRA, mandated cost payment, insurance rebates and other items. The District also realized a one-time Health and Welfare premium savings of approximately $1,121,830. The total effect of one-time revenues and expenditure savings in the 2009-2010 fiscal year equaled $2,628,942. Further, the District was successful in reducing expenditures in the supplies, services and capital line items to pre-2007-2008 levels and in many areas pre-2006-2007 levels. The realization of one-time funding and savings coupled with the successful reduction of expenditures resulted in an increase in fund balance of approximately $1,061,345. This increase resulted in an Unrestricted General Fund ending balance estimated at $18,470,103, excluding designated reserves or 13.96% of expenditures and transfers. It is also important to note that during the 2009-2010 fiscal year, the District served 23,443 FTES (Full-time Equivalent Students) but was only funded by the State to serve approximately 21,515 FTES. The 1,928 unfunded FTES equates to approximately <$8,428,387> of underfunding by the State in the 2009-2010 fiscal year.

As the State has yet to adopt a State Budget, the District has based its projections for the 2010-2011 fiscal year on the Governor's proposed budget. While the Governor's proposed budget calls for 2.21% ($2,136,223) growth funding, the District is also projecting reductions in revenue from non-reoccurrence of one-time revenues, reduction in non-resident tuition, and other funding reductions such as negative inflation adjustments and reductions in part-time faculty compensation funding. The net effect of the changes in revenues has resulted in less than a 0.5% increase in total revenues from the prior year actual.

The District is projecting expenditure increases of approximately 5.67% or $7,498,782 compared with prior year actual. The largest projected increases to expenditures are from non-reoccurrence of one-time Health and Welfare premium savings ($1,121,830), step and column increases ($1,113,676) and increases in Health and Welfare premiums ($1,019,655). The District is also transferring to designated reserves $413,168 for the hiring of new faculty members. The net effect of the projected changes in revenue and expenditures will result in a projected operating deficit of <$5,998,320> and a projected ending Unrestricted General Fund Balance of $12,058,615, excluding designated reserves, or 8.63% of total expenditures and transfers.

Revenues

Federal Revenue

The federal revenue levels for 2010-2011 represent projected federal grant administrative allowances including ACA allowances for Financial Aid programs.

State Revenue – Principal Apportionment

State revenue, in the form of Principal Apportionment, constitutes 80% ($107,059,094) of the District's operating revenue. The calculation for Principal Apportionment is based on the number of FTES (Full Time Equivalent Students) the District serves but is capped based on the State adopted budget. The District receives Principal Apportionment through a combination of direct State funds known as General Apportionment, enrollment fees and property taxes which are combined to equal the Principal Apportionment. If actual receipts of property taxes or enrollment fee differ from projections, General Apportionment funding will be adjusted to keep the formula constant.

The District has based its revenue projections on the assumption that a 2.21% growth funding rate will be approved in the passage of the state budget. This will result in the District being funded by the State to serve 21,991 FTES in 2010-2011. The proposed adopted budget is based on the District continuing to serve students well beyond its funded FTES base. As of the proposed adopted budget, the target is to serve 23,193 FTES in 2010-2011, resulting in underfunding by the State in the amount of <$5,123,274>.

In 2009-2010, the State imposed a workload reduction which was equivalent to an approximate 3.32% permanent reduction in base revenue for the District. While the proposed adopted budget assumes no such workload reduction in the 2010-2011 fiscal year, if the State budget falls further into a deficit during the current year, or if the State failed to meet its budget in the 2009-2010 fiscal year, the CCCCCO may impose additional reductions in the form of further workload reductions (permanent) or deficit factors (one-time). Each 1% reduction by the State is equivalent to approximately $1,100,000 in reduced funding for the District.

State Revenue – Other

The District is projecting a reduction in part-time faculty allocation from the State of <$159,333> from prior year. This projected reduction will result in the District receiving $347,989 in 2010-2011 for all part-time faculty allocations. This represents a 69% decrease in part-time faculty allocations from the State since 2007-2008 when the District received $1,138,047 in allocations. The proposed adopted budget also includes a negative 0.38% inflationary adjustment.

Property Taxes

Based on preliminary projections, the District will receive $11,099,302 in property tax in the current year. This is a combination of property tax shift, homeowner's exemption, secured taxes, unsecured taxes, supplemental taxes, RDA pass through and prior years' taxes. If the receipt of property tax does not meet these projections, the State may impose a further workload reduction or deficit factor to offset the loss in funding.

Lottery

The State Lottery revenues are paid each year according to the annual enrollment figures. The State is projecting slightly higher lottery sales in 2010-2011 resulting in a projected increase in lottery revenue of $111,043 from prior year actuals. If lottery sales or enrollment falls below projections, lottery revenue will be adjusted lower.

Local Revenues

The Local Revenue section of the budget contains the District's largest revenue sources outside of Principal Apportionment in the form of Non-resident Tuition. The non-resident tuition line item includes both revenue generated from non-resident tuition and revenue from special Intensive ESL classes for international students. The District decreased non-resident tuition by approximately 2%, as instructed to by the State, for the 2010-2011 year. This decrease is expected to result in a reduction in revenue of <$409,477> from prior year actuals. The remaining local revenue categories include property taxes, enrollment fees, student fees, interest, rental of facilities and others.

Expenditures

Summary

The General Fund Unrestricted Expenditure budget is where the District accounts for all operational expenditures. The breakdown of expenditures is as follows: 87.7% on salaries and benefits, 10.9% on other operational expenses and services, 0.8% on supplies, 0.4% on capital and 0.2% on transfers/financial aid. For 2010-2011 the top three projected increases to expenditures are from non-reoccurrence of one-time Health and Welfare premium savings ($1,121,830), step and column increases ($1,113,676) and increases in Health and Welfare premiums ($1,019,655). The largest decrease to expenditure are achieved through course schedule reduction of <$491,159>.

Backfill for Categoricals

In 2009-2010, the State budget reduced funding for categorical programs by approximately 30% to 40% for some programs (Basic Skills, DSPS, EOPS, CARE, etc.) and 50% or more for other programs (Matriculation, Instructional Block Grant etc.). In order to lessen the impact of these reductions on students, the District created a new expenditure category called "Backfill for Categorical Funds". In the proposed adopted budget the District is continuing the backfill at a funding level equal to 2009-2010 less ARRA funding and adjusted for discontinued grants. The total proposed backfill for 2010-2011 is $1,423,773.

Salary and Benefits

Salary and benefit expenditure projections reflect appropriate step, column and longevity increases for qualified employees. For the proposed adopted budget, increases in salary and benefit expenditures account for approximately $5,742,498 of the total $7,498,782 projected increase in total expenditures and transfers and represent 87.7% of total expenditures and transfers for the District's unrestricted fund. Consistent with Board principles, these projections do not include any assumptions for furloughs or layoffs of permanent employees in the 2010-2011 fiscal year.

Supplies, Services, Capital and Transfers

Supplies, Services, Capital and Transfer expenditure projections reflect departmental requests based on operational needs. For the proposed adopted budget, increases in these line items account for approximately $1,756,284 of the total projected increase in total expenditures and transfers and represent 12.3 % of total expenditures and transfers for the Districts unrestricted fund.

The largest line item of none salary and benefit related expenditure is contracts/services. The Contracts/Services line item in the adopted budget include: Rents/Leases (i.e. Madison Site, Swimming Pool, Big Blue Bus) 20%, Other Contract Services (i.e. Pest Control, Elevator Maintenance) 11%, Advertising 10%, Repairs and Maintenance of Equipment/Facilities 9%, Bank Fees and Bad Debt 8%, Legal Services (including Personnel Commission) 7%, E-College 7%, Postage and Delivery Services 5%, Conferences and Training 4%, Consultants 4%, Off Campus Printing 3%, District Copiers 3% LACOE Contracts (i.e. PeopleSoft, HRS) 2%, Repairs/Improvement of Facilities 1%, Memberships and Dues 1%, Audit 1%, and Other Services (i.e. Software Licensing, Mileage, Professional Growth, Fingerprinting, Board Meetings, Field Trips) 4%.

RESTRICTED FUNDS

General Fund Restricted (01.3)

This fund represents restricted funding that is received by the District from Federal, State and Local sources. All grants that do not end by June 30, 2011 will be carried over to the 2011-2012 budget, if permissible.

As noted above, in 2009-2010 the State reduced funding to the categorical programs between 30% to 100%. The programs that were affected include Basic Skills, DSPS, EOPS, CARE, Nursing, CalWorks, TTIP, Economic Development, Matriculation, Schedule Maintenance and Instructional Equipment Block grant, CAHSEE and Transfer Articulation. The District has developed the proposed adopted budget to backfill a portion of these reductions through the Unrestricted General Fund to lessen the impact on students. The total amount of the proposed backfill is $1,423,773 and is accounted for in the Unrestricted General Fund. Any changes in funding will be updated in future reports.

When received, new grants will be presented to the Board of Trustees for approval, and the District's budget will be augmented to reflect the increase.

Special Reserve Fund (40.0) Capital

This fund is also known as the Capital Expenditures Fund. The major source of revenue for this fund is the non-resident capital surcharge. These funds are used for capital outlay related projects, including the installment payments for the AET Certificate of Participation and any required expenditure matches for scheduled maintenance/physical plant, special repair projects and architectural barrier removal. State funding for capital projects is also accounted for in this fund.

All capital expenditures and revenue in the Special Reserve Fund, as well as Fund 41.0, Fund 42.1, Fund 42.2, 42.3, and 42.4 reflect the total expenditure allocation and the total revenue for all projects, and are not limited to the current year, thus resulting in a zero ending balance. Money in these funds may not be transferred into the general fund.

Earthquake Fund (41.0)

This fund reflects the FEMA and OES funding received and expended as a result of the damage incurred at Santa Monica College from the 1994 Northridge Earthquake. These funds are for the Humanities and Social Sciences (Liberal Arts Replacement) Project, the District's last earthquake project.

Bond Fund Measure U (42.2)

This fund reflects the revenue from the sale of bonds approved through Measure U and the interest earned in the fund. The expenditures in this fund relate to the College construction plan approved under Measure U.

Bond Fund Measure S (42.3)

This fund reflects the revenue from the sale of bonds approved through Measure S and the interest earned in the fund. The expenditures in this fund relate to the College construction plan approved under Measure S.

Bond Fund Measure AA (42.4)

This fund reflects the revenue from the sale of bonds approved through Measure S and the interest earned in the fund. The expenditures in this fund relate to the College construction plan approved under Measure AA.

Bond Interest and Redemption Fund (48.0)

This fund is administered by the Los Angeles County Treasurer's Office and reflects the receipt of property tax revenue due to voted indebtedness for bond issues and the payment of interest on those bonds plus the redemption of the bonds that mature within the 2010-2011 fiscal year. This information is provided by the Los Angeles County Treasurer's Office through the Los Angeles County Office of Education.

Student Financial Aid Fund (74.0)

This fund consists of all student financial aid programs (PELL, SEOG, Loans and Cal Grants). The transfer line items reflect a transfer from the Unrestricted General Fund to meet the match requirements of the individual grant programs.

Auxiliary Operations

This budget reflects the revenue and expenditures of the auxiliary operations of the District, namely the Bookstore, the food and vending concessions, and college expenditures in programs such as Athletics, Music, Theatre Arts, the Corsair student newspaper and transportation.

CONCLUSION

This is the recommended budget for adoption. It reflects the best information currently available. The budget was reviewed by DPAC's Budget Planning subcommittee, which acknowledged that the budget procedure followed transparent processes and that all constituencies had input.

While it is usually expected that changes will occur during the year, it is inevitable that there will be such changes during this particular fiscal year. Some changes will be the result of revised state revenue, and others will be internal adjustments resulting from new or updated information.

ENROLLMENT DEVELOPMENT 2009-2010 SUMMARY

Enrollment Development 2010 Board Report

SANTA MONICA COLLEGE

August 3, 2010

Teresita Rodriguez, Vice President of Enrollment Development

ENROLLMENT DEVELOPMENT 2009-10 SUMMARY

The division of Enrollment Development has had another very productive year, boasting record enrollment demand and providing quality services for the increased student body. Through the use of innovative technology to improve service delivery, the creation of marketing materials both online and in print, web development, and the implementation of new and improved programs and services the Enrollment Development Team has met the needs of the changing student body during very difficult financial times. The 2010-11 year will be met with program enhancements and the implementation of many of the projects initiated this year.

This report contains a brief summary of some of the noteworthy 2009-2010 accomplishments of the Enrollment Development units, followed by statistical information on student enrollment demographics. The final section of the report contains enrollment projections for 2010-2011.

2009-2010 ACCOMPLISHMENTS

Admissions & Records

- Approximately 100,000 transcripts and enrollment / degree verifications are processed annually.
- Processed 76061 Admission Application in 2009, up from 61443 in 2008.
- Successfully transitioned the entire student population to an Identity Management system (personalized passwords and recovery process.) This was an extremely smooth transition thanks to MIS.
- The Residency and Reclassification process went through a healthy revitalization process. Policies and forms were evaluated to ensure accuracy according to Ed Code and Title V, and staff worked together to envision more efficient ways to serve the students. While the evaluation process is still ongoing, Thelma Hoffman and Sandra Franco should be commended for their efforts.

- FERPA policy revision- The Board policy was revised and a mandatory FERPA online tutorial in late summer or early fall 2010. There were many in-person trainings held on campus as well this year. Special thanks go to Bob Myers, the District's legal counsel, and Waleed Nasr, for their work to make this a reality.
- Created "Enroll Info" Website: Not only did this transition save the District money on postage and printing, but it is also a more current and effective way to communicate with students about enrollment issues. International and domestic student information is easily made available in a more student friendly way. Thank you to Waleed Nasr for creating and helping to maintain this site.
- Streamlined and clarified the Athletic Eligibility process between Admissions and the Athletic department. Special thanks go to Ronnie Felder for working closely with MIS and Gregg Simmons, Director of Athletics to create a system of checks and balances to remain in compliance with the COA.

Assessment

- Student traffic data show that the Center broke records once again for the entire 2009 calendar year culminating at 30,409 students, a net increase of 16% over 2008, and 38% over 2007 statistics.
- The Math Placement test was administered to 16360 students in 2009, up from 14550 in the previous year.
- The English Placement test was administered to 13943 students in 2009, compared to 12599 in 2008.
- In April 2008 the center successfully launched a "remote proctoring" service designed for out-of-state students. This permits students to complete the SMC assessment tests at a location of the students' choosing. They received placement results immediately. Requests for this service continue to increase, including for out-of-the-country students. To date, we have processed 1,065 COMPASS remote testing requests. We processed 298 requests in 2008, 411 in 2009, and 356 thus far in 2010 (as of June 28).

Financial Aid

➤ Financial Aid Funds, Number of Recipients, and Total Aid:

In recent years—from 2004-05 through 2007-08—SMC has averaged around 10,500 financial aid recipients annually. During this span of time, SMC has generated over $73,268,240 of federal and state financial assistance—an average of $18,317,060 per year.

In 2008-09, though, the number of aid recipients and total financial aid increased significantly. Last year, 14,081 students received some type of assistance—an increase of over 2000 students. Total financial aid dollars reached $24,057,292.

For the 2009-10 academic year, the Financial Aid Office, again, is setting substantial new records for the total number of aid recipients—as this number has increased to 16,092, as of mid-May 2010. Total financial aid dollars have already exceeded $30,000,000—with total aid this year being anticipated to reach the $32—$33 million dollar mark.

➤ Record Number of Federal Aid Applications (FAFSAs) Processed: The Financial Aid Office processed the FAFSAs for 26,539 students, as of mid-May, for 2009-10. This is up from 20,372 applicants in 2008-09, 16,171 in 2007-08, and 15,546 in 2006-07.

➤ Outreach and In-Reach Activities: The Financial Aid Office participated in 31 outreach or in-reach activities in 2009-10. These activities include Counseling 20 presentations, high school presentations, nursing orientations, Cal Grant and federal aid workshops, workshops at the Black Student and Latina/Latino Conferences, info sessions at VIP Welcome Day, FAFSA application guidance at SMC's Cash for College event. At these events, over 1300 students were provided financial aid information or actual assistance with federal and/or state aid applications.

➤ Student Employment Processing: In 2009-10 the Financial Aid Office continued to process a large number of student workers. 916 students were processed for the year—up from 871 students in 2008-09. 533 students have worked under the FWS program and 383 students have worked under Student Help. 268 of the students working under Student Help are international students.

International Education

- Redesigned student newsletter designed to improve communication with students.
- Improved marketing materials. In conjunction with Outreach, produced a new recruitment publication. The new brochure will be distributed beginning Fall 2010. A redesigned application is anticipated in Fall 2010 and the Fact Sheets have been translated into several languages.
- Currently developing a “Welcome Guide for International Students”. This Pre-Arrival booklet will be hosted on the SMC Intl. Education website as well as mailed with admission materials for incoming international students as they prepare for studies at SMC and life in Santa Monica.
- Through ongoing collaboration with administration, ESL Department Chair, Toni Randall and ESL faculty member Janet Harcelrode, the Intensive English 1 (IE1) not-for-credit curriculum was developed and approved by the Curriculum Committee. This new course is being offered beginning summer session 2010. This course offering will provide a more seamless transition for F-1 international students from the IE1 not-for-credit course to the ESL credit courses with a curriculum and student learning outcomes which will better prepare international students for ESL and academic courses at SMC. Through restructuring the IEP to this new model, it is anticipated that this will lead to greater transparency and market appeal for students pursuing an Intensive English Program that will provide them with an immersion experience (20 contact hours per week) to prepare them for a rigorous ESL and academic program at the credit level.

Institutional Research

- Created a new Institutional Research website with additional documents and resources to assist in college decision-making and program improvement. The newer, more robust, site was launched in Summer 2010.
- Developed a plan for the development of an Institutional Effectiveness matrix. The new matrix will be prepared for distribution late Fall 2010.

- Provided a comprehensive report of data related to basic skills English composition, English reading, and mathematics. The purpose of the report was to provide a description of current basic skills enrollment patterns, students by course level, and course success and migration through the course sequence. The report was presented to the Board of Trustees and the BSI committee and the discussion around the data generated many follow-up questions. A follow-up report including basic skills ESL is expected to be completed by fall 2010.
- BSI baseline data established in 2007-2008 is currently being updated and will be presented to the BSI committee by early fall 2010.
- Supported CTE by engaging in several activities, including, co-presenting on the industry inventory at the college-wide spring Flex Day, providing training for CTE faculty on content analysis, and providing institutional data related to CTE programs for the final report.
- Executed a prerequisite validation study for the life sciences department.
- Met with the Program Review committee to establish a standard set of data reports to be provided to each instructional program each academic year. The data set will include information on students enrolled in the program and course achievement. The first round of data reports were delivered via the new website in summer 2010.

Outreach

- Enrolled 2040 First-Time California students in Fall 2009, up from 1976 the previous Fall.
- Enrolled 1524 First-Time Out-of-State students in Fall 2009, up from 1427 the previous Fall.
- Produced a new recruitment publication. The new brochure will be distributed beginning Fall 2010 through high school visits, college and community fairs, mailings to out of state prospective students, high school counselors and for general college marketing. Informal focus groups of current students were conducted to make sure the design is in alignment with students' preferences.

- Improved services for out-of-state students by providing Out-of-State student orientations designed to meet the special needs of non-resident students including providing information on residency determination and housing.
- Employed the use of Skype as an added communication vehicle. Skype is free and allows students to have virtual “face to face” appointments with an outreach counselor. Skype presentations were conducted for out-of-state high schools that also have the available technology.
- Implemented two new student enrollment yield programs for feeder high schools. In conjunction with Cash for College, the Office of Outreach and Recruitment hosted an “Instant Admission Day” for our local feeder schools that resulted in 156 applications in one day. Additionally, two “Enrollment Days” were hosted to assist students in enrolling for classes.
- Created and implemented electronic communication plan. This plan allows prospective students to receive electronic emails about current events, programs and deadlines at SMC throughout the year.
- Maintained SMC’s presence on social networking sites. All social networking sites are updated on a daily basis and have thousands of followers.
- Redesigned new student website, in collaboration with Waleed Nasr.

New Student Online Orientation

46,660 students completed online orientation in 2009-10, up 24,654 the previous year. Although record numbers of students complete the online orientation, student feedback revealed that the current design is outdated and lacks student interest. Efforts are underway to create an interactive online orientation with added features such as linking the orientation with the student Educational Plans and Placement information. The new online orientation is scheduled to be launched Summer 2010.

Early Alert

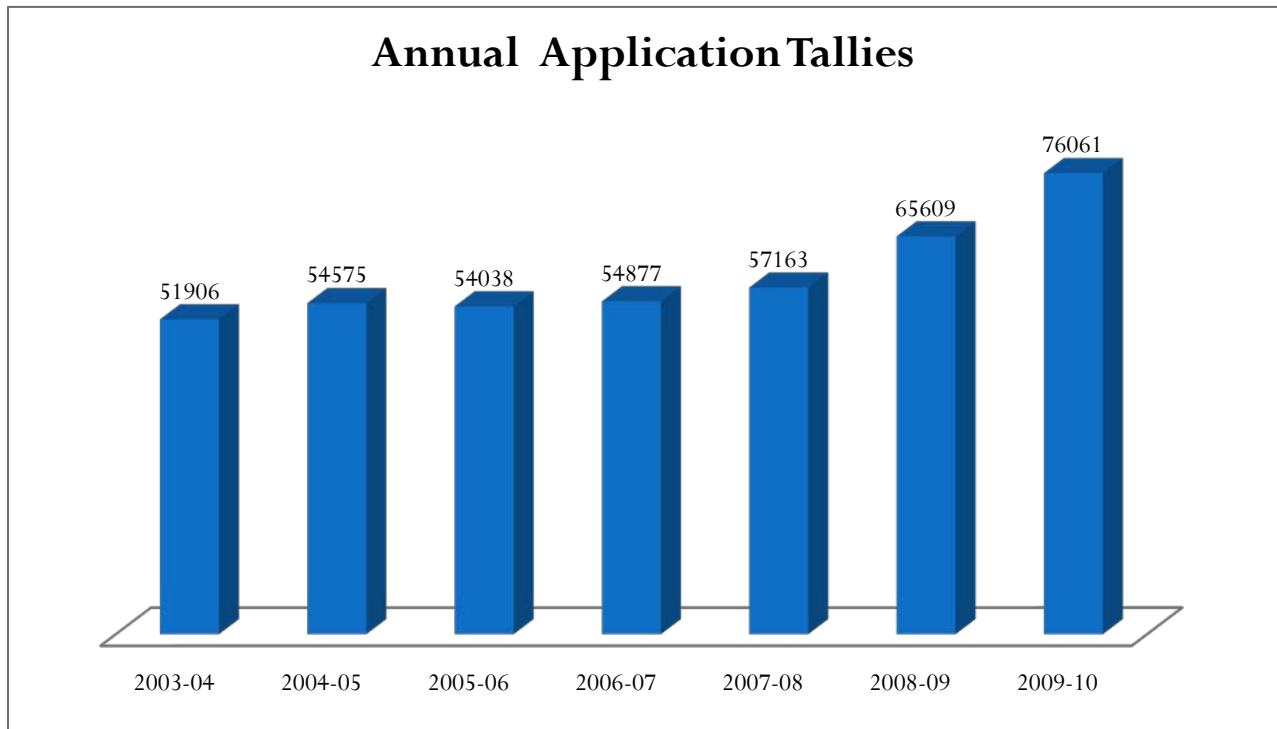

Since the new Early Alert system was launched in Spring 2008, over 3000 contacts have been made by faculty through the Early Alert system to inform students of their academic difficulties. Follow up was then conducted systematically by counselors.

APPLICATIONS FOR ADMISSION

Application data provide an early indicator of student demand and often used for preliminary trend analysis for enrollment. Table 1 below shows continued high student demand for admission. The increase in student applications of nearly 16% over the previous year's increase of over 13% is significant and consistent with the trends being seen statewide. Applications for the 2010-11 academic year are still in the very preliminary stages, but are showing a slowing of the growth. The Fall 2010 tallies as of the end of June 2010 are showing an increase of just over 10% over the previous year at the same time. At this time, it is far too early to predict final numbers for the 2010-11 year.

FULL-TIME EQUIVALENT STUDENTS (FTES)

The 2007-08 year we were in stabilization and did not have any borrowing. Additionally, we no longer had the FTES generated from Compton that year. The following year, in 2008-09, the college experienced considerable growth through the efforts of outreach, marketing, and enrollment management. Due to the current statewide budget crisis, and the related “workload reduction” imposed by the Chancellor’s Office, the college set out to reduce expenditures by reducing unfunded FTES.

ENROLLMENT COMPARISON BY STUDENT TYPE

On average, New Students (first time at SMC) make up approximately 25%, Returning Students (previously attended SMC, but have been away for a year or more) 12% and Continuing Students (continuing from previous 2 semesters) 63% of the total annual enrollment. During the 2009-2010 year, despite the plan to reduce unfunded FTE, the net effect was that headcount decreased by only 2791 students. This is a testament to the commitment of the entire campus community to preserving access for students. Faculty were very accommodating as evidenced by record-high efficiency rates.

Table 4 depicts Duplicated headcount for the four terms (Summer, Fall, Winter, and Spring) of the year.

On average, California Residents make up approximately 85% of the total credit enrollment, while Domestic Non-Residents (out-of-state and most visa types) comprise 4%, International (F1 Visa) Students 8%, AB 540 Students (non-residents, including undocumented students who graduated from a California high school and attended 3 or more years of high school in California) 2% and Others (not-for-credit students without residency data in our system) and Non-US Non-Residents (citizens of other countries on visa types not qualifying for residency, including students taking classes from abroad) less than 1% each of the total annual enrollment.

2010-2011 ENROLLMENT GOALS

The trend data indicate that the strong demand for enrollment will continue in 2010-2011. Given that enrollment has already exceeded the funded enrollment cap, and that the college is operating at an extremely high efficiency rate, the goal is for 2010-11 enrollments to remain relatively flat. The focus this year will be to maintain enrollment levels relatively close to 2009-10, to retain some level of flexibility to respond to any budgetary changes that may arise later in the year, to preserve relationships with the community, and finally, to preserve market position so that the college is well-situated to respond positively once the state budget situation improves and growth becomes the target.

Revenues are projected to remain flat as well. We will be monitoring non-resident revenue given the decrease in per unit tuition and the limited course offerings to meet the demand in international admission.

APPENDIX C

GLOBAL CITIZENSHIP INITIATIVE
SANTA MONICA COLLEGE

Three years ago, President Dr. Chui L. Tsang presented the people of Santa Monica College with both a challenge and an opportunity: to define and develop the idea of global citizenship, and to broadly integrate these ideas in innovative programs that positively impact the lives of our students.

Under the leadership of an Academic Senate Joint Presidents' Task Force, now called the Global Citizenship Council, a fluid and diverse group of faculty, staff, and student volunteers have passionately responded to that challenge. One of the earliest accomplishments was to develop a definition of Global Citizenship¹ for SMC and incorporate it into the college's new Mission, Vision, and Goals, as well as its Institutional Learning Outcomes.

As these words have developed into actions and activities, both in and out of the classroom, it has become clear that global citizenship to Santa Monica College centers around three overlapping values:

- the promotion of inter-cultural exchange, both domestically and internationally, as a celebration of our human diversity and a commitment to peace and understanding;
- a commitment to environmental sustainability and to understanding how our daily activities impact our planet; and
- a commitment to service both globally reaching to the far ends of the earth, and locally rooted in our own back yards.

These three values are joined by two pairs of global concepts: connection and change, peril and promise. However "globalization" might be defined by different academic disciplines, and whatever it might connote to various ideological and philosophical perspectives, it is a label that suggests processes of change linked to increasing connections between peoples and places.

With significant change comes the twin prospects of both peril and promise. What old problems are being exacerbated, and what new problems are arising, as a result of the disruptions and dislocations generated by global change? Conversely, how can the new connections be harnessed to address problems both old and new, and how can we as individual global citizens seize the opportunities that global change presents?

Our efforts to define and apply global citizenship are far from complete. Citizenship, after all, is truly a lifelong project. This report provides a brief summary of progress made during the 2009–10 academic year, as well as a look ahead to our plans for 2010–11.

Annual Theme

The most visible development of 2009–10 was the identification of a first annual Global Citizenship theme: Water. The intention of the annual theme is to make the initiative more accessible—to provide a tangible concept that will inspire and facilitate the integration of the ideas (and ideals) of global citizenship in campus life and scholarship. That is, rather than limit our attention to a single issue, examined from a single perspective, the idea is to encourage as many people at the college as possible to find ways in which our work and our personal passions connect to something in common.

We chose Water as the first annual theme with the hope that it would be specific enough to ground otherwise abstract notions of globalism and citizenship in examinations of significant present-day issues, but also general enough to allow a wide diversity of academic disciplines and campus functions—including students, faculty, staff, and administrators—to find relevance in it to their work. Water proved to be a successful choice, as faculty members across many different disciplines addressed the theme in a variety of ways. Specific examples are highlighted throughout this report; they include lectures by SMC faculty and invited guests, art exhibitions, dance performances, film screenings and discussions, class research and writing projects, development of learning resources, charity events, and more.

The annual theme for 2010–11 is Food, which we excitedly expect will continue the process of embedding global citizenship throughout the work of the college. Again, the hope is that each department and area within the college will make the theme their own and run with it. To that end, the Global Citizenship Curriculum subcommittee has asked each department to come up with a “tag line”—a slogan of sorts that can tailor the theme to the interests and expertise of the department’s members. Examples include:

- Counseling: Part of a Complete Academic Diet (Counseling)
- Food: Fuel for Performance (Kinesiology)

While we want to encourage a multiplicity of perspectives, we also want to foster a common dialog around the Food theme. With that in mind, the Global Citizenship Council has decided to promote a common book for the academic year: Michael Pollan’s Food Rules (New York: Penguin, 2009). This very slim “Eater’s Manual” takes many of the lessons Pollan developed in earlier works such as The Botany of Desire, The Omnivore’s Dilemma, and In Defense of Food, and distills them into 64 pithy rules for modern eaters to follow if we are to reform our complex and opaque global food system into something healthier for our bodies and our planet. At least that is Pollan’s intention. Our intention is to engage this provocative book, use it as a quick introduction into Pollan’s highly influential work, and then pursue our own campus-wide dialog as to the state of modern eating and the place of food in global citizenship.

We are still developing a calendar of events for the year, with a general call for proposals to be issued in the first weeks of the Fall semester. Among the anticipated highlights already being planned are:

- In October, SMC faculty Bill Selby and Nancy Grass Hemmert will reprise their popular tour of several of the Los Angeles region’s distinctive ethnic neighborhoods. Given that professor Selby has long offered a version of this tour as his “Eat Your Way Through L.A.” field trip, the Food theme will be on prominent display.

- In November, International Education Week will feature a series of presentations by the United Nation's Najwa Gadaheldam, who several of our faculty first met at the Salzburg Global Seminar, as well as a first annual "Global Citizenship Day." This event will be held during the activity hour and will feature an international (but also local) food experience. Beyond being an intercultural celebration, we see this as a keystone event in building toward one of our major goals for the year—increased student awareness and involvement in global citizenship.
- In April, SMC's Earth Week celebrations will include a visit and presentation by Gary Paul Nabhan of the University of Arizona. One of the world's foremost experts on the ethnobotany of desert environments, Dr. Nabhan is also a prolific writer and a leading voice in the global movement to promote more local and sustainable food practices.
- In May, the Second Annual Research Symposium and Tournament will again prominently feature student projects addressing the annual Global Citizenship theme.

These, again, are just some of the planned highlights. Given the early feedback we have already received, we expect another year full of interesting and innovative events: class projects, lectures, performances, exhibitions, field trips, and more. We also plan to record as many of these events as possible in words, photographs, and video, in order to create an enduring learning resource for years to come. Already to that end, we've begun to compile an annotated bibliography and webliography of food-related resources.

Curriculum

The curriculum at Santa Monica College represents the most powerful tool to reach all students with the ideas, philosophy, and skills of the Global Citizenship initiative. We have taken a three-pronged approach to integrating global citizenship into the curriculum: 1. expand the number of courses that fulfill the A.A. degree requirement; 2. develop new Global Studies courses and a degree/certificate program; and 3. continue efforts to integrate global citizenship in all courses, regardless of discipline.

All students pursuing an Associate in Arts degree must take a Global Citizenship course. This course may also be used to satisfy general education and transfer requirements. The courses fall into three categories: American cultures, ecological literacy, and global studies. Every year we encourage faculty across disciplines to consider revising current courses or to create new courses which might fulfill this requirement. During the 2009–10 academic year the following courses were approved as Global Citizenship courses:

Anthro 2, Cultural Anthropology

Anthro 14, Sex, Gender and Culture

Econ/Pol Sc/Global Studies 5, International Political Economy: Introduction to Global Studies

Geog/Global Studies 11, World Geography: Introduction to Global Studies

Global Studies 10, Global Issues

Music 36, History of Rock Music

Pol Sc 22, Environmental Politics and Policies

During the 2010–11 academic year, we plan to complete an audit of the existing course catalog to identify additional offerings that are good candidates for being approved as Global Citizenship courses, either in their current or revised form.

The Academic Senate's Interdisciplinary Studies (IDS) initiative proposed a new degree and certificate program, Global Studies, as well as two new and two revised courses. During the 2010 Spring semester, this proposal was approved by the Curriculum committee, Academic Senate, and the Board of Trustees, and will now be sent to the Chancellor's Office for approval. In developing the Global Studies A.A. degree, IDS studied and considered degree programs across the state including UCLA, SJSU, UCR, UCSB, UCI, and CSUMB, deciding to model our degree program after UCLA's because it fit best with our own conception of the degree. However, many of the courses that serve as the core courses or as the required electives will articulate with other baccalaureate programs as well.

The new Global Studies program consists of four core courses and four elective courses. The core courses include International Political Economy, World Geography, Global Issues, and an experiential learning course. Each of the elective courses falls within one of several thematic areas of study. These include: culture and society, governance and conflict, markets and economics, and world history/area studies.

The requirement of an experiential learning course is unique to SMC among lower-division requirements. IDS felt strongly that the program should include a component in which the student must take action in order to enact the "citizenship" aspect of our Global Citizenship initiative. For this purpose IDS created Global Studies 95, "Global Los Angeles—Experiential Learning" which gives students the opportunity to utilize Los Angeles as a learning laboratory. The course description reads in part, "By applying theoretical ideas and empirical data to their experiences, students develop a deeper understanding of international and global relations and issues, particularly as they impact the target population(s) of the organization with which students are working." Ultimately, the Global Studies A.A. degree not only represents a valuable educational program for students, it is also the embodiment of an ethos at SMC to help our students become more knowledgeable and effective global citizens.

Finally, the Global Citizenship initiative continues to focus on the integration of global citizenship across the curriculum, beyond new "global" degree programs and requirements. Much as we had hoped, the annual theme proved to be an effective tool in doing so. Rather than trying to incorporate global citizenship writ large into one's course, the theme gives faculty members a place to start. As mentioned above, during the 2009–10 academic year the theme was Water. Faculty within disciplines across campus took the lead in conversations among colleagues as to how one might use this theme in their courses. For example, philosophy professor Amber Katharine asked students to debate the question of private property raised by John Locke and Jean-Jacques Rousseau, using the documentary film "FLOW" to bring the debate over private property into the present moment. Anne Karlsen's drawing students also watched the film "FLOW" and then were asked to create a drawing which addressed the theme of water in Los Angeles. Janet Harclerode and Janine Poreba from the ESL department created an online list of resources related to the water theme for fellow faculty to use in their courses. The Photography department sponsored an exhibit of student work entitled, "On Water: Pictures on an Environmental Theme." The Dance department used the theme of water for its Fall 2009 World Dance performance. In Spanish 4 Toni Trives asked her students to work in groups to prepare oral presentations (in Spanish) on the theme of water in a Spanish speaking country; topics chosen by the students included: Water Scarcity and Water Pollution in El Salvador, Water in the Art of Manuel Lepe, Marine Biodiversity in Cuba, and Water and Agriculture in Ecuador.

Perhaps the best evidence of the Water theme's broad and diverse integration across the curriculum was the First Annual Global Citizenship Research Symposium and Tournament, held in May 2010. Professors Nancy Grass Hemmert and Nate Brown created and coordinated this wonderful event in which students competed for scholarship prizes sponsored by the Foundation's President's Circle. Students entered research papers and films; presented and performed their original works of visual art, dance, and music; and participated in a speech tournament. All of the work was derived from a project they had completed for one of their SMC classes, and it was judged for both its overall quality and its illustration of global citizenship. An additional prize was awarded for the best entry of any type that specifically addressed the annual theme of Water. In total, there were 33 submissions, some of which represented small groups of students, and all of which were evaluated by SMC faculty and other invited judges. The Friday afternoon Symposium and Tournament was made possible by a dozen volunteers and attracted approximately 50 audience members. The event was a great success and a rare opportunity to showcase the talent and work of SMC's students, while demonstrating the many different approaches that we can take in cultivating an active global citizenry. Plans are already underway to hold the Second Annual Global Citizenship Research Symposium and Tournament in May 2011.

Professional Development

Professional development among our faculty and staff continues to be a priority in terms of building capacity across campus. During 2009–10 global citizenship was an essential component of both institutional Flex days. The initiative was prominently featured in the morning portions of these days, which all participants attend, in addition to several workshops in the afternoon.

Throughout the year there were lectures and events by our own faculty, as well as invited guests, which serve to provide faculty and staff with new knowledge and tools to utilize in their work at the college. Several of our faculty did lectures on the Water theme from a wide variety of different disciplinary perspectives, including philosophy, geography, environmental studies, mass communications, and English literature—illustrating just how broadly global citizenship can be integrated across the curriculum. This included a fascinating inter-disciplinary discussion built around the classic Jack Nicholson film, Chinatown; following an evening screening, a panel of SMC faculty representing English, Film, Geography, and History discussed the film's place in the story of water in Los Angeles and how these issues continue to reverberate today. Lending strong support to the initiative, the Associates' Global Connections and Distinguished Scientists lecture series, expertly organized by Judy Neveau, also included a number of presentations involving the water theme, including several—like Barbara Goldberg's discussion of her work with "Wells Bring Hope"—that demonstrated how we can put global citizenship into action.

For the past three years, utilizing the funds set aside by the Board of Trustees, faculty have applied for mini-grants which often contribute to professional development. The Los Angeles Cultural Tour led by Professors William Selby and Nancy Grass Hemmert, for example, included a number of faculty and took a "train the trainer" approach such that the faculty in attendance could repeat a similar field trip for their own students.

Like previous years, during the summer of 2010 a group of four faculty and staff participated in the Pacifica Tour of Turkey and eight faculty and staff were sent to the Salzburg Global Seminar. Participants included faculty from business, health sciences, political science, counseling, psychology, mathematics, and music, and administrators from grant development, international education, public information, and campus safety. We have begun plans for Fall 2010 to bring this summer's groups together with the previous years' to discuss methods for disseminating what participants have learned and otherwise share their experiences with the larger college community. Already this summer's participants have reported, that their experiences were intellectually stimulating, and they bring back to SMC a fresh supply of energy and ideas as to how each person can effectively integrate global citizenship into his/her work for the college.

For the 2010–11 academic year the Global Citizenship initiative will again be highlighted on both institutional Flex Days. The theme of the recent Opening Day, for example, was "Food for Thought", and the global citizenship of food was discussed with great enthusiasm in both the morning presentations and the afternoon workshops. Global issues, and food in particular, will again feature prominently in our annual series of lectures and activities. In one of our new professional-development activities, Dr. Toni Trives will work with the Modern Languages and Cultures faculty to develop a special workshop series. Each workshop will feature a language taught at SMC and provide a primer about the culture and current events of the country(ies) which speak the language. For example, a professor of Japanese would lead a workshop focused on the cultures and current events of Japan; a professor of German would present on life in Germany, Austria, and Switzerland. The goal of these workshops is to familiarize our own faculty ranks with countries around the world such that they feel more comfortable and equipped in integrating international and intercultural topics into their own courses. The series will be funded by the Title VIA grant the college received last year.

Student Affairs

Thanks to the prominence that Global Citizenship has had in recent years in institutional Flex days, other on-campus events, curriculum development, and college accreditation and planning work, the initiative has become widely known and favorably regarded among SMC's faculty, staff, and administration. Raising and maintaining such awareness among the college's large, diverse, and transient study body, however, remains a perennial challenge.

The already discussed events tied to the annual theme of Water helped diffuse the idea of global citizenship more widely than in previous years. Likewise, the continuing development of SMC's Study Abroad programs and the new addition of a Global Studies major promise to further raise awareness. Much of what we accomplished in 2009–10, however, was to build a foundation for reaching a much larger audience in the year ahead. Following is a summary of our plans for increasing Global Citizenship's profile among students.

Thanks to the efforts of Peggy Kravitz, Jose Cue, and their Student Affairs subcommittee, Global Citizenship was on display at the VIP Welcome Day, the Friday before the start of the Fall semester. This event has become an essential orientation to SMC for new students, and through information tables and workshops, they learned about the central role global citizenship serves in the college's mission and our commitment to student success. VIP Welcome Day also affords the opportunity to introduce "global citizenship" as more than just a fashionable label, but as a living idea both defined in the abstract and applied through specific programs in and out of the classroom. Students at VIP Welcome Day learned about Study Abroad, the lecture series, the course offerings, service learning, and they are encouraged—and hopefully inspired—to weave their own threads of global citizenship through their experiences at SMC.

To develop and communicate the "brand" of Global Citizenship at SMC, Zeny Baduel, Professor of Graphic Design, designed a graphic logo for the initiative in Fall 2009 which has appeared on our promotional materials and publications since the start of the calendar year. In print, these materials so far have been limited to fliers announcing various events. The Summer 2010 group of Salzburg Fellows, however, has already produced a first-ever Global Citizenship newsletter that is being distributed at the start of the Fall 2010 semester. With initial plans to be produced twice each year, the newsletter will communicate information about upcoming opportunities, and it will also provide a place for SMC students, faculty, and staff to share photos and stories of their global citizenship experiences.

Of course, our global age revolves around communications that are increasingly in electronic form, and we expanded the initiative's online presence in 2009–10 accordingly. While still very much a work in progress, new content was added to the Global Citizenship website (smcglobal.org), including a regularly updated calendar of events and sections devoted to our annual themes: Water and Food. In 2010–11 we will continue to grow the website, possibly adding a blog, photo and video collections, and any additional materials that would further develop the website's role as a record of global-citizenship events and a collection of resources to inspire and support future efforts.

Alongside the Global Citizenship website, we have added pages on the two most prominent examples of today's new interactive social media: Facebook and Twitter. Active since January 2010, both sites so far have attracted only a modest following.² We have used these first several months, though, to develop a strong sense of the content these sites can provide and the role they can play in communicating and promoting global citizenship at SMC. Through increased promotion at VIP Welcome Day, Opening Day, and other venues—as well as the general growth in popularity of social media—we expect our Facebook page and Twitter feed to reach a significantly larger audience in the year ahead.

Two areas of student life that Global Citizenship needs to develop further—and two priorities for the upcoming year—are (1) its connections to the Associated Students, Inter-Club Council, and the clubs themselves, and (2) its community service component. Significant steps have already been taken in both areas, but they remain relatively limited. While there are usually a few students in attendance at the monthly Global Citizenship Council meetings, the primary partnership between the Council and student groups have been the efforts each of the last two years to set aside scholarship money for Study Abroad (see below). These scholarships have been significant, to say the least, but they represent just one component of what could and should be a more complete partnership.

Likewise, through some of the recent Global Connections speakers—such as Barbara Goldberg of Wells Bring Hope and Kevin Bales, founder of Free the Slaves—we have begun to include an active service dimension to global citizenship. Perhaps the most innovative and timely such effort was led by Cosmetology professor Helen LeDonne who mobilized her students this Spring to collect hair clippings and donated stockings that were passed on to the local charity, Matter of Trust, and transformed into simple but highly effective, oil-absorbing “hair booms” for cleaning the disastrous spill in the Gulf of Mexico. Again, however, we consider these efforts to be only a start of a significantly larger service component. There are already plans to incorporate a service component into November's International Education Week—utilizing our guest speaker's expertise and experience with the United Nations—and we have discussed introducing a college-wide Day of Service in Spring 2011.

Study Abroad

The Study Abroad program continues to grow as an integral part of the Global Citizenship initiative. This past year has also allowed for working closely with faculty on the overall structure through the establishment of a Study Abroad sub-committee of the Global Citizenship Council and also with the respective faculty leaders of the individual programs. Collaboration with the Study Abroad subcommittee is important as we standardize practices and continually shape the program. A standard SMC study abroad application has been developed, along with a Medical Information Form, a revised Agreement and Release form, and a “Steps to Study Abroad” customized for each of the programs, with guidelines for payments, insurance, and necessary documents required for all participants. This collaboration extends beyond the faculty to include departments across campus such as Risk Management, Auxiliary Services, Fiscal Services, Health Services, Legal, the Global Citizenship Council, business (STA Travel, Travel Vendors), and governmental agencies (Italian, Greece, Belize, Guatemala and Mexico consulates for F-1 student and permanent resident participants requiring visas for the program).

To ensure Study Abroad as a more sustainable and viable offering at SMC, we are developing annual centers, with summer programs based in Turkey (Istanbul) and China, and winter programs based in Mexico (Merida) and South Africa. Additional study abroad programs in other locations will also be offered on a two-year rotation. The goal of the annual centers is to maintain consistency of programming at a lower cost through establishment of partner institutions/organizations in the host country, as well as to provide a practical template that will facilitate the inclusion of more faculty and courses into Study Abroad. We see this as yet another way to build “global” capacity among our faculty, providing them with international experience they can bring back to their students at home. The rotation of the two-year programs (e.g. Astronomy and Italian in Italy during the summer sessions of 2009 and 2010) is to complement the annual center offerings through unique programming, expanding even further the professional development opportunities for faculty leading such programs. Through the Title VIA Grant, SMC received funding to send two faculty to do a site visit to Istanbul during the spring break 2010 with the goal of the development of an annual center in the future; a similar opportunity will exist for faculty for the spring 2011 as SMC explores an annual study abroad site in China.

We are expanding promotion of study abroad through a variety of avenues, including faculty announcements and listings in the SMC catalog and schedule. During summer 2010, new outreach marketing materials were developed that highlight Study Abroad as part of the Santa Monica student experience as does the SMC 2010 Student Planner. VIP Welcome Day 2010 featured faculty leading the winter 2011 programs, each giving a presentation to prospective participants. Returning summer 2010 participants who were recipients of Associated Student Scholarships, will also be part of International Education Week to talk about their experiences with the campus community.

Each winter and summer brings back stories from study abroad that reaffirm our belief that these programs are life-changing learning experiences, pivotal in promoting student success. For many of our domestic students, study abroad is their first-ever opportunity to travel outside the United States. The experience can be rewarding, as well, to our international students. For example, Mayumi Kimura, an SMC F-1 international student, was accepted to UC Berkeley as a Media Studies major for the fall 2010 semester. Even more impressively, she was awarded the Regents’ and Chancellor’s Scholarship ($49,022.00)—the highest honor awarded by UC Berkeley to entering undergraduates,” per the Berkeley website. Mayumi’s extra-curricular experiences and her personal statement highlighted her experience in the SMC Study Abroad program to South Africa in winter 2009, in particular her work there side by side with local residents to help build sitting walls and to expand an organic garden. While there she studied Communication I and Psychology 5.

Program offerings during summer 2010 included programs to Italy (Astrology & Italian), Greece (Philosophy and English), and Belize, Guatemala & Mexico (Anthropology and Creative Writing). Through the generous support of Associated Students, $68,000 in scholarship money were distributed to partly offset the programs’ cost. These scholarships were based on financial need, and they allowed dozens of SMC students to have an invaluable international experience that would have otherwise been beyond their financial reach. We are thus quite proud of the demographic mix of the summer group; across all programs, over half of the participants came from traditionally underrepresented groups.
