Comment: In order to meet the ACCJC requirements for planning, it is essential that Santa Monica College has evidence of a strong planning process, in particular a mission-driven Master Plan for Education. This plan, when developed and integrated through a systematic participatory governance process that includes student learning outcomes and assessment, program review, data analysis, and ongoing dialogue, form the heart of institutional effectiveness. They drive institutional priorities, resource allocation, student achievement, and institutional improvement plans.

A Master Plan for Education should do far more than describe a college's existing programs, history, and demographic environment. It should articulate a vision which informs the college's decisions, and guides college faculty and staff toward common goals.

Describe the anticipated outcomes that will result from the completion of the action plan, including how its completion might further the college's goal of eliminating equity gaps:

Santa Monica College serves a diverse population of students with an array of life experiences, preparedness skills, needs, and goals. Student needs and choices are evolving, and SMC needs to proactively address these changes. With the growth of online learning, students have more choices and are becoming more proactive in their educational choices. Students desire more collaborative and experiential forms of learning. SMC needs to provide the necessary programs and services for successful outcomes. Accountability to measure student success will continue and increase.
