Alternatively, during the meeting and before public comments have ended, individuals may use the Q&A feature of Zoom to request to speak.

DPAC Meeting Ground Rules

To facilitate constructive dialogue in DPAC meetings, it is crucial to maintain a set of ground rules that encourage open communication, mutual respect, and effective problem-solving. These guidelines will help create an environment where DPAC members feel comfortable sharing their ideas and opinions without fear of personal attacks or ridicule. Following are some essential ground rules for DPAC meetings:

- Stay on topic: Conversation should remain focused on the issue at hand, avoiding distractions and unrelated tangents.
- Focus on the issue, not the person: Discuss ideas and opinions, rather than focusing on personal issues or complaints.
- Maintain a respectful tone: Communicate your thoughts and ideas with courtesy and respect, avoiding aggressive or condescending language
- Strive for balanced participation: All DPAC members should have an opportunity to contribute their ideas and perspectives.
- Active listening: Active listening includes giving others your full attention, refraining from interrupting, and asking clarifying questions to ensure comprehension.
- Be open-minded: Remain open to new ideas and be willing to change opinions based on the information and insights shared during the debate. Acknowledge and respect the diversity of opinions and experiences within the team. Recognize that different perspectives can contribute to a richer understanding of the issue at hand and lead to more innovative solutions.
- Seek common ground: Identify areas of agreement and work collaboratively towards finding mutually beneficial solutions.
